Purchase price: $ 4,500.00

Hydra software maintenance and technical support subscription

Features are continually being added to the Hydra software package. In fact, you can request new features at any time and we will add them as soon as possible. We release software updates which include new features, updates for changes in the computer environment, documentation updates, and bug fixes. Rather than charge users varying upgrade fees at irregular intervals, we offer a maintenance and support program at a predictable annual cost, which includes all updates and upgrades, as well as basic technical support. There is no obligation to continue subscribing to the maintenance program, however we are unable to support older versions of the software.

Annual fee: $ 1,250.00
